RESPIRATION

1. Respiration takes place through skin (cutaneous) only when skin is moist

1. Skin is kept moist by damp soil, coelomic fluid oozing out through dorsal pores and mucus secreted by epidermal cells.
2. If the skin is dry exchange of gases does not take place and the earthworm dies.